

ICELAND

An Eight-Day Sample Itinerary

Reykjavik → Selfoss → Vík → Höfn → Egilsstaðir → Akureyri → Snæfellsnes → Reykjavik

APPROXIMATE BUDGET Around ₹1,75,000 per person, excluding flights	BEST TIME TO VISIT June to August for long daylight and open roads; September for fewer crowds

A first look at how a full loop of Iceland comes together, from Reykjavik down the south coast, around the east fjords, across the north, and back via the Snæfellsnes Peninsula. Every Just Go trip is shaped around a vetted local expert and adjusted to your pace; this is simply a starting point.

DAY	BASE	THEME	SAMPLE PLAN
1	Reykjavik	Welcome to Reykjavik	Arrive and settle in; wander the harbour, Laugavegur street, and Hallgrímskirkja before an early night ahead of the drive south.
2	Selfoss	The Golden Circle	Visit Þingvellir National Park, then continue to Selfoss, with a detour to the Secret Lagoon in Flúðir for a quieter geothermal soak than the more crowded spas.
3	Near Vík	Waterfalls and Black Sand	Drive the south coast via Seljalandsfoss and Skógafoss, then continue to Reynisfjara's black sand beach before overnighiting near Vík.
4	Höfn	Glaciers and Diamond Beach	Continue east, stopping at Jökulsárlón Glacier Lagoon and Diamond Beach, with time in Vatnajökull National Park along the way; overnight in Höfn.
5	Egilsstaðir	Into the East Fjords	Drive the winding fjord road north to Egilsstaðir, with stops along the coastal villages and Lagarfljót lake.
6	Akureyri	Waterfall of the Gods	Continue north via Goðafoss, then settle into Akureyri, the capital of the north, for the evening.
7	Snæfellsnes	Iceland in Miniature	Drive west to the Snæfellsnes Peninsula and loop past Kirkjufell, the region's dramatic waterfalls, and its lava-field coastline.
8	Reykjavik	Back to Reykjavik	Return to Reykjavik for departure, with time for last-minute souvenirs or a final coffee before the flight.
